

Little friends
may prove great friends.

What is essential
is invisible to the eye.

If you can't say anything nice,
don't say anything at all.

Wealth unused
might as well not exist.

Necessity is the mother of invention.

Slow and steady
wins the race.

Pursue
your dreams!

Honesty
is the best policy.

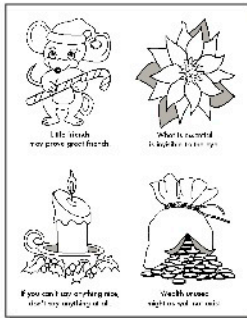

The whole is greater than the sum of its parts.

Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.

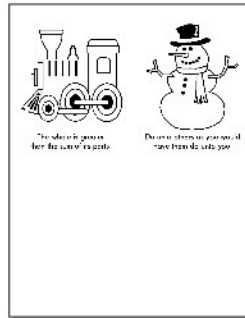

Assembling the Coloring Book

page 1

page 2

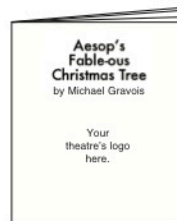

page 3

page 4

1. Place your theatre's logo in the space indicated on page 4, under the show's title.
2. Copy pages 1 and 2 back to back, and pages 3 and 4 back to back.
3. Cut the pages in half along the dotted line.
4. Place the three half-pages on top of each other so the cover is on top, as shown below left.
5. Fold the pages to create a booklet. Staple along the seam, as shown below right.

Aesop's Fable-ous Christmas Tree

by Michael Gravois

Your
theatre's logo
goes here.

It matters not which path you take but how you act on the journey